Etiquette Corner

Giving Back In Martial

Art, most everything is circular. From both a literal and philosophical standpoint. Often on our journey, we end up where we began but with greater appreciation, wisdom, and knowledge. For the art to survive, students must eventually step in as teachers. This can mean helping a junior rank, regularly assisting in classes, studying to become a certified instructor and even opening an official Kuk Sool Won school of your own. Teaching is extremely rewarding, additionally, in helping others you inherently improve. Look for ways to give back to the art.
