Etiquette Corner

Punctuality:

"If you are early, you are on time. If you are on time you are late. If you are late you are fired". I am not sure where this quote came from but it perfectly sums up punctuality. When someone is expecting you, being early show respect and that you value their time. We ask permission to join class if we miss bow in as a reminder to ourselves of this point. We all run behind from time to time; making a habit of it forms a stigma of unreliability that is difficult to change.
